Here's why you should join our team: http://bit.ly/2nOVNzL #CoEStudents Check out student researcher Ryan's insight about the valuable lessons he has learned at SyracuseCoE! #CoEStudents ...bit.ly/2nOVNzL |  "1. Collaborate – Projects are always better when individuals from diverse backgrounds work together. 2. Keep trying – Despite working on many grants currently, I have been rejected more times than accepted. I just keep writing and submitting proposals and applications as often as I can. 3. Learn something new – I have been put on projects that I did not feel like I had an adequate background to fulfill. Being on an internship and/or in school is the best time to learn a new skill." RYAN MILCAREK Student Researcher, COMER Lab On the most important lessons he has learned at SyracuseCoE |
